October Edition

Happy Fall!

Tools for Success: MA 112 and MTH 100

There are several things to know about how to register for the courses MA 112 & MTH 100. If you need the dual classes, you will have to make sure that the section numbers match (ex. MA 112.121 & MTH 100.121). You can check if you have the right section by clicking on the title of a course in the registration system> Course Description. It will tell you if the course section you've chosen is linked to a section of another math course. There's also a possibility that you just need either MA 112 or MTH 100. You can check to see if they are stand alone sections the same way.

Please consult your advisor about what track is best for you!

Spotlight: Stop. Don't Drop. Roll with it

If you are struggling with a class and considering dropping it, it is important to consider all of your options first. Dropping a course can impact your financial aid, result in hundreds of dollars wasted, and delay your graduation.

Before you decide to drop a course, do a few things:

- Meet with your instructor
- Make study groups with classmates
- Use on-campus resources (Center for Academic Excellence and the Math Lab)
- Meet with your advisor

The drop date is October 28th, so don't wait until it's too late to decide!

Ask the advisor: How do I contact my advisor?

How to set up a spring registration appointment:

- Your advisor will send you an email and appointment link-you should already have this link in your Jagmail inbox
- Select the link and choose a day and time to schedule an appointment
- Before your appointment, look at the Bulletin for your major
- Check your time ticket-your time ticket will let you know when you can register for classes

You can also email your advisor with any questions! It is our policy to answer emails within 24 hours during weekdays, unless your advisor has indicated being away.
